KEEPE YOUR CHILD SAFE

What are your children doing?
Who are they hanging out with?
Where are they?
Are they safe?
How are you supervising them?

As the evenings get lighter, more children will be playing outside unattended or with friends.

Do you know what they are doing?

HERTSMERE COMMUNITY SAFETY PARTNERSHIP
In our community right now, older children are targeting children as young as eight and nine to gain their trust and encourage them into criminal activity.

Suggestions to keep your child safe during the holidays:

- Know exactly where your child is going.
- If they're going to a friend, call to confirm your child is there.
- Be their parent, not their friend.
- Set fair boundaries to keep them safe.
- Invite your children's friends over to play.
- Remember, it's ok to say no!
- For more information, read the NSPCC's guidance "Is my child ready to go out alone?" available at www.nspcc.org.uk
