There are some housing schemes in Hertsmere that offer supported living.

Who can get supported living?

If you have a learning disability or require mental health support, this type of accommodation may be suitable for you.

We work in partnership with Hertfordshire County Council, and housing associations to provide this type of accommodation that can enable you to live independently with support.

New applications

Important Notice: We're improving the way we accept and process applications for supported housing in Hertsmere to make the service easier, more efficient and more user-friendly for our customers to use.

In preparation for this, we are unable to accept new applications to the housing register for a short period of time.

If you are  homeless or threatened with homelessness, you can still get advice and support.

We apologise for any inconvenience caused.
